THE MILLIONAIRE CONVICT. Milton Weston to Be Treated the Same as Other Prisoners.

PITTIBURO, PA., January 28.—For the present Milton Weston will be assigned to no employment in the peni-tentiary. Warden Wright says he will be treated precisely as any other prisoner. Said he: "A great many of our convicts are now unemployed, but I shall find Weston something to do in a few days. It would be cruel to place a man of his temperament in quiet confinement. His mind must be employed, or he is liable to become deranged. I do not think him caps ble of severe physical work. We have men here who are naturally idle, and who have been in penitentiaries and jails to much that they have become used to confinement But this would not be the case with Weston. The kindest way to treat him will be with entire impart ality, as he will then not be looked up to nor down upon by the other convicts. This course will also cause him to drop into obscurity much comer, and that is what Mr. Weston wants, of course. I have no idea whether he will serve his full term or not. He appears cheerful, and says he is ready to obey all the rules and win the nine months' commutation which is given for good behavior. During his term of imprisonment he will be known as Prisoner 8053. At his special request no staps looking toward fresh complications will be taken. He received, without solicita-tion, a letter from the Governor and State officials of Illinois to the Governor of Pennsylvania, asking that he be pardoned. As the Pardon Board meets in twenty days, it will be im-possible to get any action taken then, and the case will be brought before

THE NEW AGRICULTURE is the title of a well printed volume, by the Hon. A. N. Cole, from the press of the Anglers Publishing company. It is the result of many years of patient labor and investigation into the fundamental laws governing the movements of the waters upon and benesth ments of the waters agon and beneam the soil. It is a system of subsurface drainage and irrigation, by which the most wonderful results have been produced. He aptly calls it The New Agriculture. Concisely stated Mr. Cole's system has the following advantages as compared with the methods of agriculture now in general use: First, cereal crops are increased more than fourfold. Second, the size, flavor and enhanced production of fruits and sults.

MISSISSIPPI LEGISLATURE vegetables are in proportion as five to one under the old systems. Third, vegetation of all kinds is rendered absolutely free from disease, more espe-cially that arising from fungoid infec-tion. Fourth, the ground worked under the new system being measurably impervious to frost, the producing season is prelonged from forty to sixty days. Fifth, it creates a rich, most and loamy soil out of the most unpromising hardpan. Sixth, it prevents the washing of surface soils from hill-side farms during heavy rains. Seventh, springs are created on the most sterile hillsides.—Eighth, drouth is effectually guarded against.

Effect of the Hailroad on the Town-The Farmers' Association,

ICORRESPONDENCE OF THE APPRAIL.

Cardevitte, Tenn., January 27.— Since the Memphis, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad has been finished to Holly Springs our little town, through which it passes, has undergone some improvement. We have a nice depot, a handsome new storehouse, some new residences and other improvements. I am almost tempted to say the place is on a boom; if not a boom it is at least a real live, genuine boomlet. We can't say whether the rail-road deserves all the credit for this or not. At any rate, it is since the road has been built that this spirit of enter-prise and improvement has shown it-We are willing, however, to ac cord the road all the praise, and only hope that it will confer such benefits and advantages as willen some measure compensate our citizens for the osses they sustained in subscribtaxation; to impose a privilege tax on jug to the enterprise when t was first started by Gen. Bedford Forrest about fourteen years ago. We have nought to say a ainst the fame of Gen. Forrest. He was a gallant soldier, and are fighter in the lost cause was a decided success, but he wasn't up to snuff" in railroad matters. So the original Memphis and Selma came to grief, as did all who had put their confidence, and what was dearer still, their cash therein. But of course the present company owning the road had nothing to do with the failure to finish it in the first instance. We at-tich no blame to them. We might add that our citizens are not likely to lose snything more by investing in railreals, at least in those in a state of infancy—I might say the embryo If in the fature they should ever become rowessed with an irre-sistible impulse to put capital into that kind of property, they will first satisfy themselves that the road in question is a full-grown, well-davel-oped, healthy specimen of the genus

The suit was brought by Attorney-General Bradford at the last term, and the State has made strenuons efforts to convict. It was regarded at a test case under that clause, and if the State had won many saloon keepers would have closed their places. AMERICAN BOOK-MAKERS

Advocating the Protection of Their Works by an International Copyright.

Arguments by Authors and Pub-lishers Before the Senate Committee on Patents,

WASHINGTON, January 28,-The spaclous room of the Senate Commit-tee on Patents was well filled at 10 o'clock this morning by authors, publishers and others directly interested in the international copyright question, and by ladies and gentlemen attracted by the prospect of hearing distinguished speakers on the subject. Senator Platt called the committee to order, announced that the Hawley bill and the Chase bills were pending before it, and stated that the object of to-day's meeting was to hear arguments on the general subject. Mr. A. D. Sedgewick, president of the American Copyright League then said to the committee that Dr. Howard Crosby had been invited by the League to set forth the views of that organization in regard to an international copyright law. Dr. Crosby then addressed the committee.

Mr. Crosby advocated Senate bill No. 191, known as the Hawley bill. He said: "It is not the object of the bill to give the foreign author the same rights that his own country gives him. It is to give the foreign author the same right that we give the American author here. I think that should be clearly understood. We wish the foreign author and the American author to stand on the same platform here, provided the foreign nations act in like manner with ourselves. Another point I would make is this, That the subject is entirely separated in our minds from the great subjects of protection and free trade. The American publishes his book in the United States and expects to reap a respectable benefit from it. He crosses the St Lawrence and finds that his book is issued there at a price that rains his expectations. The American author himself, therefore, is subject to the grossest injustice as well as the foreign author. All the countries of E trope are more liberal in their copyright matter than we are. Not only the American author, but the American publisher would be banefiel by such a law, for whatever be might lose in the direction of foreign work he certainly will more than make up by the increase of American authorship by the strong incentive given to American authors, and by the much larger proportion of American works, and hence many of our most promi-nent publishers recognize the eminent prosperity of this most just law. Another point that it is well to notice is that all the proper protection which our manufacturers need will be con-tinued by our regular tariff regula-The expenses now cf packing freight and contingent expenses are 15 per cent., which, added to the 25 per cent. of tariff, makes the protection now 40 per cent. So long as this will continue the American manufacturers will be abundantly protected if this law be enacted. My only other reand monor o'y is immense. Property right is the right to enjoy the use of the products of one's labor, but moropoly is the power to prevent another from enjoying what is his due.

Mr. Clemens [Mark Twain] could see no objection to the insertion of a clause in the bill which shall require more or less informally. Senator Teller asked, with reference to the whole discussion, how all this would affect the price of books in this country. Notoly, he said, had appeared in the interest of the American reader. He asked that the question be considered over night and answered to-morrow. The meeting adjourned, after some further discussion, to meet at 2 o'clock to-morrow, when Mr. James Russell Lowell is expected to address the committee.

Mr. Sedgwick, Senator Hawley, George Ticknor Curtis, Henry Holt, Horace E. Scudder and George Wal-ton Green addressed the committee

A Gentle Stimulus

Is imparted to the kidneys and bladder by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is most useful in overcoming torpidity of these organs. Besides infusing more activity into them, this excellent tonic endows them with additional vigor, and enables them the better to undergo the wear and tear of the discharging function imposed upon them by nature. Moreover, as they are the channel for the escape of certain impurities from the blood, increases their usefulness by strengthening and I healthfully stimulating them. In certain morbid conditions of these important organs, they fall into a singgish state, which is the usual procursor of disease. What then can be of greater service than a medicine which impels them to greater activity when slothful? No maladies are more perilous than those which affect the kidneys, and a medicine which are the kidneys, and a medicine which averts the peril should be highly estaemed.

Serious Conflagration.

FRANKLIN, PA., January 28.—The most serious conflagration this city has sustained for years, occurred this morning about 3 o'clock. It broke this out in what is known as the Opera-House block, owned by Hanna and Duffield. The fire seems to have originated about the stage of the operahouse, which generally consists of very inflammable material. Before the fire department could reach the place the opera-house was a solid blaze. The firemen worked faithfully but the building was beyond their power to cave. The block was built twenty years ago by the owners and was one of the most substantial buildings in the city and originally cost about $135,000. Representative Eankin's Funeral Manitowoc, Wis., January 28.—Immediately upon arriving here, at 6:30 o'clock last evening, the remains of Congressman Joseph Rankin were taken to the Episcopal church, escorted by the Congressional and local delegations. The funeral services, which were conducted by the Ray, H. T. Bray, were held at the church at 10:30 this morning. Special trains brought hundreds of people from various quarters of the State, and the attendance was so large from Mr. Rankin's Con-gressional District that it was impossible for late comers to get within a block of the church. The head of the funeral procession had reached the cemetery, two miles from the church, before the formation at the church had been completed.

The St. Louis Chinese Murder Trial, Sr. Louis, Mo., January 28.-After the examination of several unimpor-tant witnesses by the defense in the Chinese highbinders' trial to-day, C. P. Johnson, one of the prosecuting at-torneys, was placed upon the stand.

He was asked to identify a photograph of Quong Sing, who turned State's evidence. The defense stated that their object in placing this photograph in evidence was to show, by contrasting his physical condition now with his condition before the picture was taken, how Quong Sing had de-generated and grown thin, which the defense stated was due to the effect which his perjury in testifying sgainst the defendants had caused upon his mind and body. The judge, however, would not allow this evidence.

TRIPLE MURDER IN KENTUCKY. An Old Negro Man and His Two Kons Billed,

LOUISVILLE, KY., January [28.-A Courier Journal special says: Meager details of a triple tragedy in Letcher county, Ky., were received by letter to Senator J. E. Candill at Frankfort to-day. William Wright, an old mar, Andy Wright, his son, and William Wright, colored, were killed by James, Samuel and Elijah Wright Wednesday night. The murderers are said to have gone to the home of the s'ain men and shot them down without warning. The parties are related, and the assassination is thought to have resulted from a family feud. The murderers have been arrested, and their trial set for Friday. It is thought they will be hung, as there is much indignation and excitement in Leicher county over the affair. Russeliville, Ky., is excited over a written threat by unknown parties to kill and burn the residence of R. H. Caldwell, a wealthy cit zon, brother of Ex-Congressman Caldwell, if he did not send $500 to a designated spot by Saturday. Blackmailing is suspected.
